

TWICE IN A BLUE MOON

Libretto by Christopher Hassall

Music by Phyllis Tate

Scene: The Cromes' house, with chorus outside.
Time: About 1810.

I: CHORUS

Allegro rustico

Musical score for Piano I and Piano II, measures 1-4. The tempo is Allegro rustico. The key signature has one sharp (F#) and the time signature is 3/4. The score is written for two pianos, Piano I and Piano II. Both parts begin with a pp (pianissimo) dynamic. The first two measures are mostly rests for the upper staves, with the lower staves playing a steady eighth-note accompaniment. In the third and fourth measures, the upper staves enter with a melody that cresc. (crescendos) and then poco a poco (gradually) increases in volume.

CURTAIN UP

Musical score for Piano I and Piano II, measures 5-8. The tempo is Allegro rustico. The key signature has one sharp (F#) and the time signature is 3/4. The score is written for two pianos, Piano I and Piano II. The first two measures are marked gva. (ritardando) and pp. In the third measure, the dynamic changes to ff (fortissimo) and there is a Cymbals effect. The fourth measure is marked p (piano) and Ped. (pedal). The fifth measure is marked mf (mezzo-forte) and the sixth measure is marked dim. (diminuendo). The score includes various musical notations such as slurs, accents, and dynamic markings.

SYNOPSIS

The first part takes place around 1810 in and outside John Crome's house. Neighbours are preparing to go to Norwich Fair. The Crome s are poor and, after some angry words with his wife, John grudgingly agrees to her novel suggestion that by chopping a painting in half they can sell it twice over. Mrs. Crome then sets off to the Fair with one half, leaving John with the other. He expresses his disappointment with the married state and prays for the safety of his bisected painting.

A short instrumental interlude depicts the passage of time from 1810 to 1910 and the next scene takes us to the National Gallery in London where a conducted tour is in progress. The guide relates the strange story of Crome's painting, 'Mousehold Heath'. The ghosts of Mr. and Mrs. Crome overhear his (her) words and John, realising with astonishment that the painting is now worth a great deal of money, has a neat trick up his ghost-like sleeve. For its happy consequence, we return, after a speech-chorus Interlude ('Johnnie Crome, go back home'), to 1810 and to John Crome's house.
